

A detailed black and white paper-cut illustration. The scene is set in a garden. In the center, a person with short hair is shown from the back, wearing a simple t-shirt and pants, looking towards a dog. The dog is a medium-sized breed, possibly a Weimaraner, standing and looking towards the right. The garden is filled with various plants: large sunflowers with prominent centers, tulips, roses, and other smaller flowers. The background is a dense, intricate pattern of leaves and floral motifs, creating a sense of depth and texture. The overall style is clean and artistic, typical of paper-cut art.
